History

Calvary Church, because of the motive underlying its foundation, commends itself to the attention of more than the congregation that assembles for worship within its walls; it has a claim upon the interest of churchmen of the Diocese of Pennsylvania and throughout the American Church. In fact, it was designed to be a monument to one whose name ought to be revered by the entire American people. A chief instrument of God in the preservation of Apostolic order of the Church, Bishop White, as chaplain of the Continental Congress and the friend and spiritual adviser of Washington and others prominent in the patriotic cause, was intimately associated with the very beginning of our national existence. The sword of the conqueror, the genius of the military commander and the ability of the statesman deservedly receive the plaudits of a grateful people, while the godly admonitions, the moral support and the devout supplications of the man of God, invoking the aid of the Almighty in support of the cause, usually are forgotten. Calvary Church stands as a living monument to the work of Bishop White for the nation as well as for the Church.

In July, 1846, Bishop Alonzo Potter appointed the Rev. Joseph H. Smith, Jr., as a "missionary to labor for the Ladies' Missionary Association of Christ Church, Philadelphia, with the intent of first gathering a congregation, and then building a church edifice for the worship of Almighty God. The church building was designed to be monumental in its character; to perpetuate the good example of William White, first Bishop of this Diocese, and to express thankfulness to God for the same."

The first service was held August 9th, in a sail-loft at Front and Noble streets.

December 9th, 1849, a building committee, consisting of the Rev. Joseph H. Smtih, Jr., and Messrs. J. Welsh, Jr., B. W. Frazier, A. J. Buckner, I. S. Waterman, I. C. Da Costa, D. Rodney King and Francis West, was appointed by the Ladies' Missionary Association.

A lot having been procured at the southwest corner of Front and Margaretta streets, the corner-stone of the building was laid by Bishop Potter on Friday, April 4th, 1851, the 103d anniversary of the birth of Bishop White. On this occasion Bishop Potter paid tribute to the memory of Bishop White, "the most eminent native citizen, perhaps, that Philadelphia had produced." He spoke of the appropriateness of building "an humble but lasting memorial, where the poor may be welcomed to the Banquet Supper of the Lamb, and where the name and services of this Father of our American Church shall be embalmed and treasured up." He gave "thanks to the godly women who in all meekness but with indomitable patience, have striven through five long years to provide here a lasting and most appropriate memorial." "In a church, the seats of which are to be always free, and which is to open its doors alike to poor and rich," he said, "they would remember the destitute and needy, and they would remember him, too, who through all his useful life was distinguished by devotion to their wants."

The Rev. Joseph H. Smith resigned the parish on the 15th of January, 1855, and was succeeded by the Rev. Aaron Christman.

The church was consecrated during the session of the General Convention in Philadelphia, Sunday, October 12th, 1856, by Bishop Potter, the House of Bishops attending in a body out of respect to the memory of Bishop White.

The Parish was incorporated in the spring of 1857, the incorporators being the Rev. Aaron Christman, Rector, and Messrs. John Welsh, Jr., Isaac Waterman, John C. Da Costa, Joseph Hover, A. I. Buckner, D. Rodney King, Francis West, William Gamble, John P. Rowbotham, Arthur Hamilton, Henry Hay and Charles Shock. It was admitted into union with the Convention of the Diocese, May 28th, 1857.

In April, 1861, Mrs. Kester, a member of this Parish, began a Sunday School in Washington avenue, west of Frankford road, which led to the holding of services there by the Rector in May, and on October 15 the corner-stone was laid of the "Free Church of St. John," which remained in the charge of the Rector of Calvary Church until November 30, 1862.

The title and deeds of the Church property, which had remained in the hands of the Ladies' Missionary Association of Christ Church up to this time, were presented to the corporation of Calvary Church in June, 1862. In the same month the portrait of Bishop White, painted in oil by Mr. William M. Abbey, was presented by him to the parish.

The services continued uninterruptedly at Front and Margaretta streets until the spring of 1882, when, that neighborhood having been given over to business interests, the Parish removed to its present location. The removal of the church building was accomplished with much care and patience. Each stone was numbered and taken to West Philadelphia, and the original building was reproduced in the new location.

A tablet in cast bronze commemorating the devoted efforts of the Rev. Thomas Poole Hutchinson, in accomplishing the removal, has recently been placed upon the west wall of the Church.

An endowment fund of about $8000 was bequeathed to the Parish by Miss Mary Cartwright, who died January 5th, 1900. This, with the "Phoebe Welsh" fund of $500 for the Sunday School, is the only endowment which Calvary possesses.

The present organ was the gift of Miss Emma R. Pierce in 1901, in memory of her parents.

The possession of the Church, Parish House and Sunday School building left nothing to be desired in the way of real property for the Parish except a house for the Rector. This was most wisely and judiciously supplied during the incumbency of the Rev. Warren K. Damuth, by the purchase of the property adjoining the Church for a Clergy House, as a memorial to the Rev. Alden Welling.

In the summer of 1911 the interior walls of the Church and Sunday School room were painted, and a wainscoting of oak placed in the Church. At the same time the font, which had stood in the southeast corner of the Church, was replaced by a side altar on which the Blessed Sacrament is reserved through the week, the font being placed where it originally stood near the Church door.

Steam and hot water heating systems were installed in the Church, Parish Buildings and Clergy House during the early spring of 1913.

The list of Rectors of Calvary Church is as follows: 1846, Rev. Joseph H. Smith; 1855, Rev. Aaron Christman; 1857, Rev. Charles R. Bonnell; 1865, Rev. F. Dillon Eagan; 1867, Rev. F. J. Clerc; 1869, Rev. Jacob Miller; 1870, Rev. G. Woolsey Hodge; 1874, Rev. T. P. Hutchinson; 1896, Rev. Jesse Higgins; 1900, Rev. Walter Biddle Lowry; 1901, Rev. Alden Welling; 1903, Rev. Warren K. Damuth; 1907, Rev. William A. Grier; 1910, Rev. Charles L. Steel.

SOME NEEDS OF CALVARY CHURCH.

First of all, the reduction or entire liquidation of the mortgages of $2900 and $1500 on the Clergy House and Brown street lot.

A larger endowment fund. An endowment yielding an income of $2000, the maximum suggested by the original charter, would relieve the Parish of the constant anxiety over current indebtedness. Bequests should be made to the "Rector, Wardens and Vestrymen of Calvary Church, Northern Liberties," Philadelphia, Pa.

A greater number of regular contributors to the current expenses of the Parish. A more general and a more generous and regular use of the weekly envelopes. The Church is free, which means that instead of paying for a seat you give for the support of the services, which cost no less here than in a Church where the pews are rented. Surely the object is more ideal, and your contributions should, therefore, be larger than if you paid pew rent.

A greater number of monthly subscribers to the Alden Welling Memorial Fund, for the payment of the interest, and yearly instalment of at least $200 of the principal of the Clergy House mortgage. These are expected to be one cent a day subscriptions, and a collector will call for yours every two weeks or month if you will notify the chairman of the Fund Committee, Mr. Louis B. Ashbrook, 764 North Forty-first street.

Two mortuary candlesticks. We have four, and two more are needed to complete the set.

An ever increasing interest in the Parish and in one another, that we may be as a family united in one great, common love and devotion to our Blessed Lord and to His Holy Catholic Church.

A reliable home remedy for the treatment of minor ailments. In PILES it relieves like magic. For BURNS it takes the fire out immediately. Open Sores, Cuts, Bruises, Skin Eruptions, Cracked or Chapped Lips or Hands, Sunburn and most all Skin Diseases. Chronic Leg Ulcers heal kindly even after all other treatments fail.

THE OUNCES OF PREVENTION

The scratch of a pin, the cut of a knife, a pimple scraped off while shaving, are all liable to become infected, causing great pain and danger. But an application of the above will prevent infection and cause the wound to heal quickly and without unpleasant consequences. "Safety First" demands that you keep a bottle of this safe, prompt, effective antiseptic, handy. Wonderfully efficacious for sore throats and tonsilitis.

HISTORY

Calvary Church, because of the motive underlying its foundation, commends itself to the attention of more than the congregation that assembles for worship within its walls; it has a claim upon the interest of churchmen of the Diocese of Pennsylvania and throughout the American Church. In fact, it was designed to be a monument to one whose name ought to be revered by the entire American people. A chief instrument of God in the preservation of Apostolic order of the Church, Bishop White, as chaplain of the Continental Congress and the friend and spiritual adviser of Washington and others prominent in the patriotic cause, was intimately associated with the very beginning of our national existence. The sword of the conqueror, the genius of the military commander and the ability of the statesman deservedly receive the plaudits of a grateful people, while the godly admonitions, the moral support and the devout supplications of the man of God, invoking the aid of the Almighty in support of the cause, usually are forgotten. Calvary Church stands as a living monument to the work of Bishop White for the nation as well as for the Church.

In July, 1846, Bishop Alonzo Potter appointed the Rev. Joseph H. Smith, Jr., as a "missionary to labor for the Ladies' Missionary Association of Christ Church, Philadelphia, with the intent of first gathering a congregation, and then building a church edifice for the worship of Almighty God. The church building was designed to be monumental in its character; to perpetuate the good example of William White, first Bishop for this Diocese, and to express thankfulness to God for the same."

The first service was held August 9th, in a sailloft at Front and Noble streets.

December 9th, 1849, a building committee, consisting of the Rev. Joseph H. Smith, Jr., and Messrs. J. Welsh, Jr., B. W. Frazier, A. J. Buckner, I. S. Waterman, I. C. Da Costa, D. Rodney King and Francis West, was appointed by the Ladies' Missionary Association.

A lot having been procured at the southwest corner of Front and Margaretta streets, the corner-stone of the building was laid by Bishop Potter on Friday, April 4th, 1851, the 103d anniversary of the birth of Bishop White. On this occasion Bishop Potter paid tribute to the memory of Bishop White, "the most eminent native citizen, perhaps, that Philadelphia had produced." He spoke of the appropriateness of building "an humble but lasting memorial, where the poor may be welcomed to the Banquet Supper of the Lamb, and where the name and services of this Father of our American Church shall be embalmed and treasured up." He gave "thanks to the godly women who in all meekness but with indomitable patience, have striven through five long years to provide here a lasting and most appropriate memorial." "In a church, the seats of which are to be always free, and which is to open its doors alike to poor and rich," he said, "they would remember the destitute and needy, and they would remember him, too, who through all his useful life was distinguished by devotion to their wants."

The Rev. Joseph H. Smith resigned the parish on the 15th of January, 1855, and was succeeded by the Rev. Aaron Christman.

The church was consecrated during the session of the General Convention in Philadelphia, Sunday, October 12th, 1856, by Bishop Potter, the House of Bishops attending in a body out of respect to the memory of Bishop White.

The Parish was incorporated in the spring of 1857, the incorporators being the Rev. Aaron Christman, Rector, and Messrs. John Welsh, Jr., Isaac Waterman, John C. Da Costa, Joseph Hover, A. I. Buckner, D. Rodney King, Francis West, William Gamble, John P. Rowbotham, Arthur Hamilton, Henry Hay and Charles Shock. It was admitted into union with the Convention of the Diocese, May 28th, 1857.

In April, 1861, Mrs. Kester, a member of this Parish, began a Sunday School in Washington avenue, west of Frankford road, which led to the holding of services there by the Rector in May, and on October 15 the corner-stone was laid of the "Free Church of St. John," which remained in the charge of the Rector of Calvary Church until November 30, 1862.

The title and deeds of the Church property, which had remained in the hands of the Ladies' Missionary Association of Christ Church up to this time, were presented to the corporation of Calvary Church in June, 1862. In the same month the portrait of Bishop White, painted in oil by Mr. William M. Abbey, was presented by him to the Parish.

The services continued uninterruptedly at Front and Margaretta streets until the spring of 1882, when, that neighborhood having been given over to business interests, the Parish removed to its present location. The removal of the church building was accomplished with much care and patience. Each stone was numbered and taken to West Philadelphia, and the original building was reproduced in the new location.

An endowment fund of about $8000 was bequeathed to the Parish by Miss Mary Cartwright, who died January 5th, 1900. This, with the "Phoebe Welsh" fund of $500 for the Sunday School, is the only endowment which Calvary possesses.

The present organ was the gift of Miss Emma R. Pierce in 1901, in memory of her parents.

The possession of the Church, Parish House and Sunday School building left nothing to be desired in the way of real property for the Parish except a house for the Rector. This was most wisely and judiciously supplied during the incumbency of the Rev. Warren K. Damuth, by the purchase of the property adjoining the Church for a Clergy House, as a memorial to the Rev. Alden Welling.

In the summer of 1911 the interior walls of the Church and Sunday School room were painted, and a wainscoting of oak placed in the Church. At the same time the font, which had stood in the southeast corner of the Church, was replaced by a side altar on which the Blessed Sacrament is reserved through the week, the font being placed where it originally stood near the Church door.

Steam and hot water heating systems were installed in the Church, Parish Buildings and Clergy House during the early spring of 1913.

On the 26th of April, 1914, a cast bronze tablet commemorating the removal of the Church from Front and Margaretta streets to its present site, through the untiring efforts of the Rev. Thomas Poole Hutchinson, was unveiled and blessed. It is placed on the west wall of the Church, near the north entrance.

In the winter of 1915-1916, the walls of the Sunday School room were painted, sixty new chairs were purchased, and a new curtain for the stage was provided, at the expense of the Parish Guild. Through the kindness of Mr. S. W. Ihling, the Guild room walls and woodwork were painted and varnished; and through the generosity of Mr. Wm. Stanton Macomb the interior of the south porch of the Church was repointed.

The list of Rectors of Calvary Church is as follows: 1846, Rev. Joseph H. Smith; 1855, Rev. Aaron Christman;

SOME NEEDS OF CALVARY CHURCH.

First of all, the reduction or entire liquidation of the mortgages of $2400 and $1500 on the Clergy House and Brown street lot.

A larger endowment fund. An endowment yielding an income of $2000, the maximum suggested by the original charter, would relieve the Parish of constant anxiety over current indebtedness. Bequests should be made to the "Rector, Wardens and Vestrymen of Calvary Church, Northern Liberties," Philadelphia, Pa.

A greater number of regular contributors to the current expenses of the Parish. A more general and a more generous and regular use of the weekly envelopes. The Church is free, which means that instead of paying for a seat you give for the support of the services, which cost no less here than in a Church where the pews are rented. Surely the object is more ideal, and your contributions should, therefore, be larger than if you paid pew rent.

A greater number of monthly subscribers to the Alden Welling Memorial Fund, for the payment of the interest, and yearly installment of at least $200 of the principal of the Clergy House mortgage. These are expected to be one cent a day subscriptions, and a collector will call for yours every two weeks or month if you will notify the chairman of the Fund Committee, Mr. Louis B. Ashbrook, 764 North Forty-first street.

Two mortuary candlesticks. We have four, and two more are needed to complete the set.

An ever increasing interest in the Parish and in one another, that we may be as a family united in one great, common love and devotion to our Blessed Lord and His Holy Catholic Church.

HISTORY

Calvary Church, because of the motive underlying its foundation, commends itself to the attention of more than the congregation that assembles for worship within its walls; it has a claim upon the interest of churchmen of the Diocese of Pennsylvania and throughout the American Church. In fact, it was designed to be a monument to one whose name ought to be revered by the entire American people. A chief instrument of God in the preservation of Apostolic order of the Church, Bishop White, as chaplain of the Continental Congress and the friend and spiritual adviser of Washington and others prominent in the patriotic cause, was intimately associated with the very beginning of our national existence. The sword of the conqueror, the genius of the military commander and the ability of the statesman deservedly receive the plaudits of a grateful people, while the godly admonitions, the moral support and the devout supplications of the man of God, invoking the aid of the Almighty in support of the cause, usually are forgotten. Calvary Church stands as a living monument to the work of Bishop White for the nation as well as for the Church.

In July, 1846, Bishop Alonzo Potter appointed the Rev. Joseph H. Smith, Jr., as a "missionary to labor for the Ladies' Missionary Association of Christ Church, Philadelphia, with the intent of first gathering a congregation, and then building a church edifice for the worship of Almighty God. The church building was designed to be monumental in its character; to perpetuate the good example of William White, first Bishop for this Diocese, and to express thankfulness to God for the same."

The first service was held August 9th, in a sailloft at Front and Noble steets.

December 9th, 1849, a building committee, consisting of the Rev. Joseph H. Smith, Jr., and Messrs. J. Welsh, Jr., B. W. Frazier, A. J. Buckner, I. S. Waterman, I. C. Da Costa, D. Rodney King and Francis West, was appointed by the Ladies' Missionary Association.

A lot having been procured at the southwest corner of Front and Margaretta streets, the corner-stone of the building was laid by Bishop Potter on Friday, April 4th, 1851, the 103d anniversary of the birth of Bishop White. On this occasion Bishop Potter paid tribute to the memory of Bishop White, "the most eminent native citizen, perhaps, that Philadelphia had produced." He spoke of the appropriateness of building "an humble but lasting memorial, where the poor may be welcomed to the Banquet Supper of the Lamb, and where the name and services of this Father of our American Church shall be embalmed and treasured up." He gave "thanks to the godly women who in all meekness but with indomitable patience, have striven through five long years to provide here a lasting and most appropriate memorial." "In a church, the seats of which are to be always free, and which is to open its doors alike to poor and rich," he said, "they would remember the destitute and needy, and they would remember him, too, who through all his useful life was distinguished by devotion to their wants."

The Rev. Joseph H. Smith resigned the parish on the 15th of January, 1855, and was succeeded by the Rev Aaron Christman.

The church was consecrated durng the session of the General Convention in Philadelphia, Sunday, October 12th, 1856, by Bishop Potter, the House of Bishops attending in a body out of respect to the memory of Bishop White.

The Parish was incorporated in the spring of 1857, the incorporators being the Rev. Aaron Christman, Rector, and Messrs. John Welsh, Jr., Isaac Waterman, John C. Da Costa, Joseph Hover, A. I. Buckner, D. Rodney King, Francis West, William Gamble, John P. Rowbotham, Arthur Hamilton, Henry Hay and Charles Shock. It was admitted into union with the Convention of the Diocese, May 28th, 1857.

In April, 1861, Mrs. Kester, a member of this Parish, began a Sunday School in Washington avenue, west of Frankford road, which led to the holding of services there by the Rector in May, and on October 15 the corner-stone was laid of the "Free Church of St. John," which remained in the charge of the Rector of Calvary until November 30 1862.

The title and deeds of the Church property, which had remained in the hands of the Ladies' Missionary Association of Christ Church up to this time, were presented to the corporation of Calvary Church in June, 1862. In the same month the portrait of Bishop White, painted in oil by Mr. William M. Abbey, was presented by him to the Parish.

The services continued uninterruptedly at Front and Margaretta streets until the spring of 1882, when, that neighborhood having been given over to business interests, the Parish removed to its present location. The removal of the church building was accomplished with much care and patience. Each stone was numbered and taken to West Philadelphia, and the original building was reproduced in the new location.

An endowment fund of about $8000 was bequeathed to the Parish by Miss Mary Cartwright, who died January 5th, 1900. This, with the "Phoebe Welsh" fund of $500 for the Sunday School, is the only endowment which Calvary possesses.

The present organ was the gift of Miss Emma R. Pierce in 1901, in memory of her parents.

The possession of the Church, Parish House and Sunday School building left nothing to be desired in the way of real property for the Parish except a house for the Rector. This was most wisely and judiciously supplied during the incumbency of the Rev. Warren K. Damuth, by the purchase of the property adjoining the Church for a Clergy House, as a memorial to the Rev. Alden Welling.

In the summer of 1911 the interior walls of the Church and Sunday School room were painted, and a wainscoting of oak placed in the Church. At the same time the font, which had stood in the southeast corner of the Church, was replaced by a side altar on which the Blessed Sacrament is reserved through the week, the font being placed where it originally stood near the Church door.

Steam and hot water heating systems were installed in the Church, Parish Buildings and Clergy House during the early spring of 1913.

On the 26th of April, 1914, a cast bronze tablet commemorating the removal of the Church from Front and Margaretta streets to its present site, through the untiring efforts of the Rev. Thomas Poole Hutchinson, was unveiled and blessed. It is placed on the west wall of the Church, near the north entrance.

In the winter of 1915-1916, the walls of the Sunday School room were painted, sixty new chairs were purchased, and a new curtain for the stage was provided, at the expense of the Parish Guild. Through the kindness of Mr. S. W. Ihling, the Guild room walls and woodwork were painted and varnished; and through the generosity of Mr. Wm. Stanton Macomb the interior of the south porch of the Church was repointed.

During the great world war the Parish contributed about thirty members to the Army and Navy of the United States, two of whom were called upon to make the great sacrifice. Basil Leighton Steel, the rector's oldest son, died from influenza in Cardiff, Wales, October 8th, 1918. Arthur Hanling died from wounds received in the Argonne, November 1st, 1918. At home, in addition to making many bandages, etc., for the Red Cross, a number of entertainments for the sailors and marines from the navy Yard were given.

On Sunday, October 31st, 1920, a stained glass window depicting our Lord comforting Martha and Mary near the tomb of Lazarus, was dedicated. The window, of beautifully rich coloring and excellent design, is the work of Mr. Ellwood Potts, West Philadelphia, and was given by the rector's family in memory of the oldest son and daughter, Basil Leighton Steel and Mary Agnes Leighton Steel.

The list of Rectors of Calvary Church is as follows: 1846, Rev. Joseph H. Smith; 1855, Rev. Aaron Christman; 1857, Rev. Charles R. Bonnell; 1865, Rev. F. Dillon Eagan; 1867, Rev. F. J. Clerc; 1869, Rev. Jacob Miller; 1870, Rev. G. Woolsey Hodge; 1874, Rev. T. P. Hutchinson; 1896, Rev. Jesse Higgins; 1900, Rev. Walter Biddle Lowry; 1901, Rev. Alden Welling; 1903, Rev. Warren K. Damuth; 1907, Rev. William A. Grier; 1910, Rev. Charles L. Steel.

SOME NEEDS OF CALVARY CHURCH

First of all, the reduction or entire liquidation of the mortgages of $1800 and $1300 on the Clergy House and Brown street lot.

A larger endowment fund. An endowment yielding an income of $2000, the maximum suggested by the original charter, would relieve the Parish of constant anxiety over current indebtedness. Bequests should be made to the "Rector, Wardens and Vestrymen of Calvary Church, Northern Liberties," Philadelphia, Penna.

A greater number of regular contributors to the current expenses of the Parish. A more general and a more generous and regular use of the weekly envelopes. The Church is free, which means that instead of paying for a seat you give for the support of the services, which cost no less here than in a Church where the pews are rented. Surely the object is more ideal, and your contributions should, therefore, be larger than if you paid pew rent.

A greater number of monthly subscribers to the Alden Welling Memorial Fund, for the payment of the Building and Loan mortgage on the Clergy House.

Two mortuary candlesticks. We have four, and two more are needed to complete the set.

An ever increasing interest in the Parish and in one another, that we may be as a family united in one great, common love and devotion to our Blessed Lord and His Holy Catholic Church.
